THE IRON WORKERS.

THE CONFERENCE AT PITTSBURGH

To Determine the Scale for the Coming Year.

What the Wheeling Workmen and Manufacturers

Have to Say About the Situation and Prospects—The Boilers' Complaint.

The annual convention of the Amalgamated Association, I. & W., meets at Pittsburgh to-morrow. This year's convention will be the first under the basis of representation adopted at the General Convention held at Chicago last summer, which is confidently relied upon by the members to give each section of the country and each branch of the Association a fair representation in the convention, and prevent its being packed by the more radical members of the Pittsburgh district, as has been the case in the past.

The basis of representation is one delegate to every three hundred members, which gives this district five delegates in the meeting. These were chosen last year, as follows:

Heating Department—Thomas McCarthy, of

Frederick.

Shilling Department—Joseph Jacobs, of

Frederick.

Rolling Department—William Lewis, of Laurel Hill, Martin's Ferry, Ohio.

Boiler Department—John Brown, of Riverside Mill, Wheeling.

VIEWS OF WHEELING MEMBERS.

The Wheeling members of the Association are almost unanimously in favor of the entirely new policy, and the delegates from this district are understood to be opposed to any course at this time which would tend to interfere with the harmony now existing between the manufacturers and their employees on the wage question. While many of them think this is the time to urge the matter on the attention of the manufacturers, feeling disposed to let well enough alone for the present. Persons in a position to know say that the prevailing sentiment among members of the Association in this district is opposed to any change in the scale, and if the same feeling is general over the country, the convention will reaffirm the old scale.

It is all a question of time, and the proposition submitted to the district meeting of the Association last month, and it is inferred from current expressions that this was not favorably received by the meeting, although the justice of such a change cannot be denied.

A prominent iron worker the other day said: "I don't know what to do. I am not in a position to do it, and I am not in a position to do it, and I am not in a position to do it, and I am not in a position to do it, and I am not in a

man's card does not go below two and a half cents. However, however, however, however,

(and it is selling now at two cents for common bar, and has sold as low as one and seven-tenths), the labor receives compensation as at about two and a half cents on the market rate. A corresponding reduction will take place in finished wages. It is believed concessions will be made on both sides in order to arrive at an amicable settlement, but as the manufacturers are determined on a reduction, the largest concession must necessarily come from the men to avert a strike.
